DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 through 7, 10 through 12, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lawrence et al., 5033010.

3. As per claims 1, 2, 3, and 12, Lawrence et al. disclose a computer chip positioned with a line replaceable unit and in communication with a smart data memory module on lines 16-20, on column 4; said smart data memory module positioned with a machine operating with the line replaceable unit and in communication with an electronic control unit on lines 43-45, on column 4; the electronic control unit is in communication with a performance monitoring system on lines 55-60, on column 7; and the performance monitoring system comprises an aircraft communication address reporting system and a trend monitoring system on lines 55-60, on column 7.

4. As per claims 4 and 5, Lawrence et al. disclose the computer chip receives and stores a set of as built data and operational data for said line replaceable unit on lines 45-50, on column 14.

5. As per claims 6 and 7, Lawrence et al. disclose the smart data memory module receives and stores a set of as built data and operational data from the line replaceable unit on lines 60-65, on column 4.

6. As per claims 10, 11, and 14, Lawrence et al. disclose the set of operational data comprising an hours accumulated, a number of starts accumulated and a built in test results that have occurred during specified time period wherein each data set is identified as to time of occurrence on lines 1-15, on column 5.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 15-17 are allowed.

8. Claims 8, 9 and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art of record does not disclose the set of as built data includes place of manufacture; and comparing the received part number and the serial number with the data stored in the smart memory module.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

11. Adachi et al., US 2003/0093204, disclose method for managing construction machine and arithmetic processing apparatus.

12. Bangert et al., US 2003/0135310, disclose aircraft engine reliability business model.

13. Adibhatla et al., US 2002/0193933, disclose apparatus for monitoring gas turbine engine operation.

14. Sinex, US 2002/0143445, discloses maintenance tracking system.
15. Nada, US 2002/0002430, discloses abnormality diagnostic system and abnormality diagnostic data storing method.
16. Hozuka et al., US 2001/0037168, disclose vehicle information communication system and method capable of communicating with external management station.
17. Razavi et al., US 2001/0033225, disclose system and method for collecting vehicle information.
18. Wacker et al., 6622070, disclose diagnostic device for monitoring a sub-system in a motor vehicle.
19. Rangarajan et al., 6363332, disclose method and apparatus for predicting a fault condition using non-linear curve fitting techniques.
20. Chou et al., 6330499, disclose system and method for vehicle diagnostics and health monitoring.
21. Pierro et al., 6301531, disclose vehicle maintenance management system and method.
22. Bliley et al., 6243628, disclose system and method for predicting impending failures in a locomotive.
23. Ng, 5445347, discloses automated wireless preventive maintenance monitoring system for maglev trains and other vehicles.
